

A Sad Gnome RECORDS PRESS RELEASE CONCERNING

Formula / Cognoscenti

The new single from

Remodel

Released as a Digital Download March 31st, 2008 | Available from www.sadgnomerecords.net | Cat.no. SG0803

Formula (2:11) | Cognoscenti (3:30)

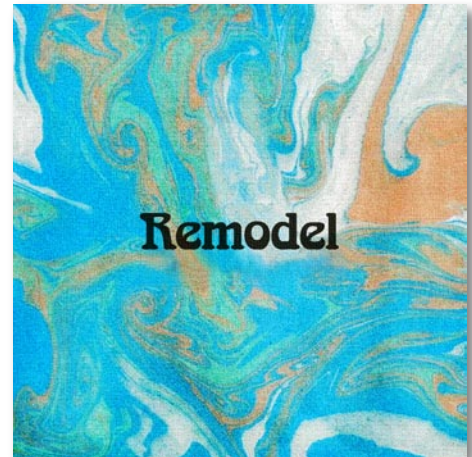

Building on the success of their first offering, Remodel are releasing their second single, a download only double A-side single of Formula and Cognoscenti. It will be available via their label Sad Gnome Records, as well as through iTunes and assorted digital outlets.

The single showcases Remodel's ability to write great pop, with two slabs of dynamic dissent, both demonstrating a progression in their style. Formula leads off with caged animal swagger and a swinging, punching riff as Remodel tear into the tainted world of prosaic pop. This is pop that punches, then hands you a hanky to wipe your bloody nose. Recalling MTV-baiting Dead Kennedys at their most sardonic, it most certainly guarantees not to 'leave a vibrant after-taste and pleasant feeling.'

Cognoscenti is three well-spent minutes of Remodel rocking out to the disdain of fashionistas and trend-surfers. Displaying a fuller sound from the four-piece, it scatters harmonics and harmonies, while adhering to their punk-rock urgency. Not to be missed.

Remodel are a post-punk pop band; Shropshire-born but London-based. They are moulded into the template of British pop bands while retaining a decidedly original slant. Well-dressed, gentlemanly and chivalric, they could be compared to The Stranglers or The Buzzcocks, but most importantly, they sound like Remodel.

Following on from recent singles by Joe Rybicki, My Name Is Red and Lily Rae, Formula/Cognoscenti is Sad Gnome Records' 7th release.

Remodel are:

Leigh Swinn: Vocals
Mark Heffernan: Guitar
Adam Knight: Bass
Joey Smout: Drums
